1.Applicant's election without traverse of Group II, claims 13-18 in the reply filed on March 25, 2004 is acknowledged.

2.Claims 1-12 and 19-21 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on March 25, 2004.

3.The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4.Claims 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jegelka (4,106,884). Jegelka discloses the basic claimed apparatus for molding composite items of sintered expanded resin beads including (1) a movable half mold, and (2) a first translatable half mold and a second translatable half mold, the movable half mold being movable between a position for closure with one of the first and second translatable half molds and an open position, one of the translatable half molds being able to perform a translational motion at right angles to a movement of the movable half mold, so that alternatively one of the first and second half molds is in a molding position for being mated with the movable half mold. Based on the position of the other translatable half mold, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that such half mold is accessible to an operator, such as for cleaning. The aspect that an insert is molded is essentially a statement of an intended use for the apparatus rather than a structural limitation used to distinguish apparatus claims over prior art.

The action of piston 31 within cylinder 9 provides a translatable platform, as in claim 14, and Jegelka teaches a hopper and feeder or injector, as in claims 15 and 16, as well as barriers, as in claim 17.

5.Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jegelka as applied to claims 13-17 above, and further in view of Page, Jr. (5,134,259). Page, Jr. discloses a sensor which is adapted to detect the presence of an operator at column 4, lines 5-15. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate such a sensor into the apparatus of Jegelka in order to enhance the safety of operation of the apparatus.

6.Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Allan Kuhns whose telephone number is (571) 272-1202. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Thursday from 7:00 to 5:30.
